HIGHLAND 1973 was a circus with clowns and balloons,

the correct solution to a problem,

test or a discussion

It was following
crowd
or standing out,

fighting
to make contact, feeling overpowered, or taking a break.

It was learning to work
to develop our talents
and
sharing with friends,
relaxing together
and

for a goal

golden

HIGHLAND 1973

FACULTY

AND ADMINISTRATION

Administration and the Board of Education

The job of the Highland Board of Education is to determine the guidelines followed by our four schools and to regulate the finances of the system. Because of added funds from the state this year, they were able to expand the size of our staff, thereby providing our students with a better opportunity for individualized instruction.

The connecting links in our district were Mr. Vermillion and Mr. Clevidence. They worked in close contact with both the board and the administrators of each building, who in turn conveyed information to and from the community and our faculty.

work for the betterment of our schools

Mr. Art C. Clevidence, Assistant Superintendent

Mr. Clevidence confers with Mrs. Perram, a bus driver.

A major issue handled by the Board is bus routes.

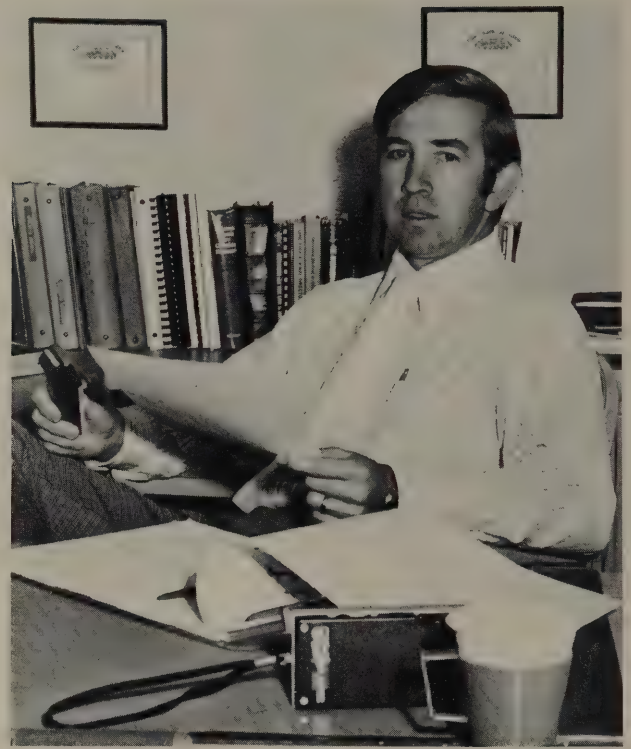

Our new Assistant Superintendent of Schools this year is Mr. Art Clevidence. Although he is filling a new position, he is not new to the district. He taught at Hinckley Elementary School for two years and at the high school and Granger for two each. Then he became principal at Hinckley, where he stayed for eight years. Most recently Mr. Clevidence was curriculum director in the Brunswick City Schools.

This year his responsibilities are Federal programs, checking on buildings and grounds, and the transportation of students to and from school.

Administration and Guidance Counselors

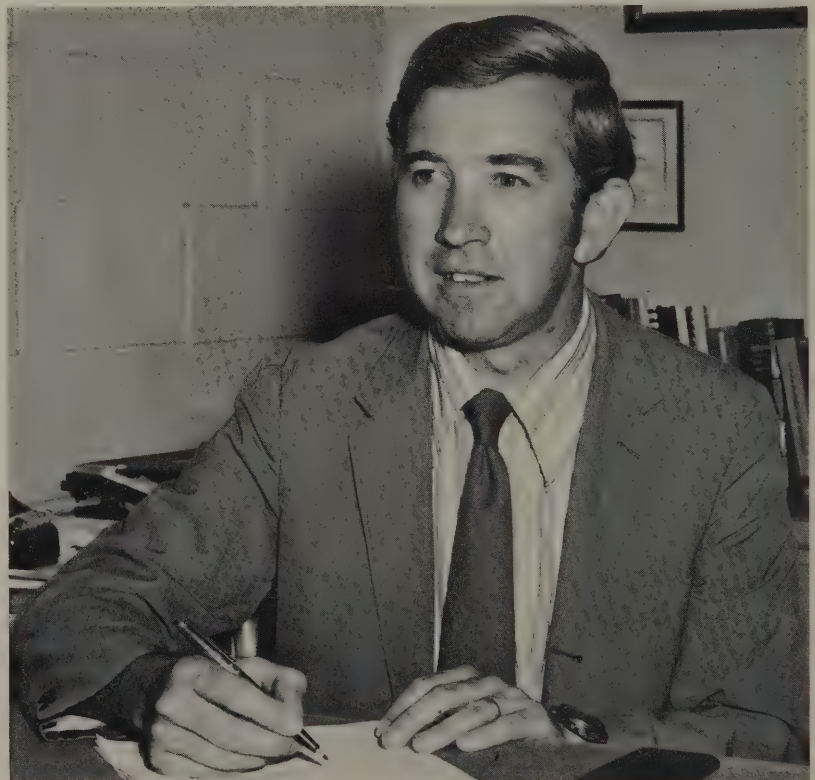

Deby Botz and Gary Henry take time out to get acquainted with Mr. Breese.

Mr. Breese is often found in conference with members of the faculty, student body and community.

Our new principal, Mr. John Breese, also came to us from Brunswick. His innovative mind and determination sparked others to the "challenge of change", so that we worked together to bring about many successful alterations of vital school operations.

Mr. Brenner's headquarters were located in our newly named Unit Office, which served as a contact center between students and administration. His position as Unit Principal involved the organization of our daily school activities in addition to the supervision of the extra-curricular activities.

Mr. Thomas Brenner, Unit Principal

Mrs. Barbara Dzur, Guidance Counselor

Mr. Jack Heim, Guidance Counselor

Mrs. Dzur, Mr. Breese and Mr. Brenner discuss the role Highland will play in the new Joint Vocational School.

Our guidance department took on an active role in school life this year as it offered individual and group counseling sessions, college and vocational guidance, and countless placement and aptitude tests. Mrs. Dzur and Mr. Heim were constantly kept occupied by the large number of students making use of the guidance center.

The school district's finances are under the care of Mrs. Brunskill. She is the clerk of the Board of Education, while Mrs. Webster, who works in the same office, is treasurer of the high school.

The secretary of the Unit Office, Mrs. Winter, handles all business which students bring to the office and channels it to the proper person. To help her Mrs. Winter has a staff of girls who do office work during study halls.

Mrs. Babcock can be found in the Administrative Office. Most faculty affairs go through her to Mr. Breese and the superintendent's office. She is also in charge of requisitioning school materials.

Mrs. Brunskill, Highland's clerk and Mrs. Webster, an office secretary, check over the 1972-73 budget.

organize the school's materials

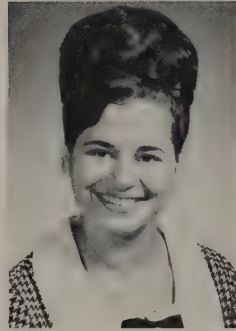

Mrs. South and Mrs. Anderson process new book cards in the media center.

The media center has many more responsibilities than processing and keeping a record of circulation of all library books. Mrs. South, Mrs. Anderson and their aides now distribute, collect and keep records of textbooks. They also keep all lost and found textbooks and sell student workbooks. This year the staff is organizing a booklet for the teachers, listing the available materials for use in their classrooms.

Two years of Latin students concentrated on grammar and translations, while three years of Spanish and two years of German students worked on vocabulary word and conversations in class and in their textbooks. Latin classes took a field trip to Hiram College to see a Latin play and four German students went to Germany, England and France with Miss Goldwood during the summer.

Mrs. Hege and her freshman English class conduct an open discussion.

Freshman English students studied "behind the lines" of newspapers this year, and were introduced to classic literature and poetry as well. Sophomores read the recently-published comedy novel M*A*S*H* and discussed it as they read. American authors of short stories and novels were subjects investigated by junior literature classes, while such things as creative writing, comparisons and contrasts, and research papers were stressed with the student as the author in the senior English classes.

While the class follows along, Mrs. Ludwig reads from Shakespeare.

Students ask for assistance from Miss Chiaramonte.

Mr. Clifford instructed students in algebra and modern analysis.

In the winter Mrs. Tramonte's vocational department took a field trip to Stan Hywet Hall as one of its activities. Students busied themselves with welding, building, and making mechanical drawings in the industrial arts department, directed by Mr. Nash, Mr. Bates, and Mr. Harmon.

Lab experiments and working out their own equations were among many of the fundamentals of chemistry taught by Mr. Temple this year. Dissection and bacteria study were some of the things learned by biology students from Miss Friedstrom. A general introduction to the many fields of science including electricity, chemical reactions, and studies of the universe was taught by Mr. Becker. He also taught a senior physics class that probed into various physics books, lab experiments, and books on religion, philosophy and psychology.

The cafeteria cooks were certainly busy this year cooking for both the junior and senior high schools. Favorites were ravioli, hamburgers, and pizza.

Girls in physical education classes not only learned how to play football, volleyball, and basketball, but how to referee them as well. Modern and folk dancing were also taught by Miss Gowe. Boys, under the supervision of Mr. McFarland, used the new weightlifting equipment to develop athletic skills. They also played volleyball and basketball.

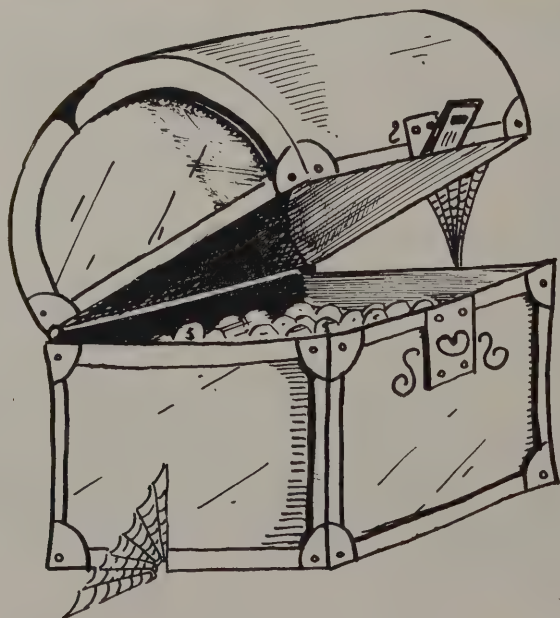

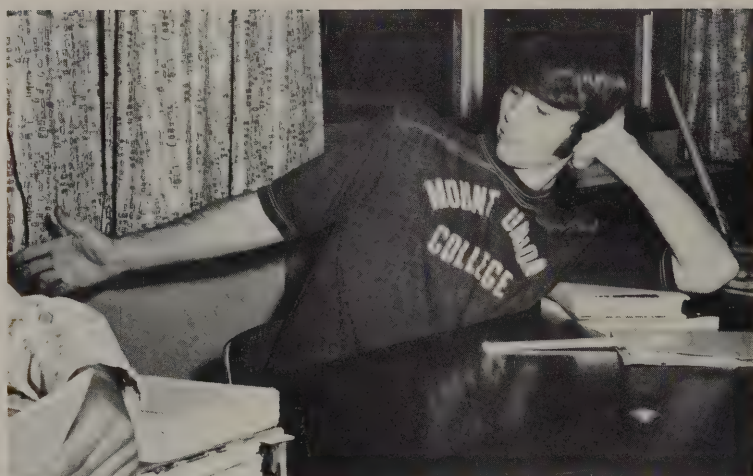

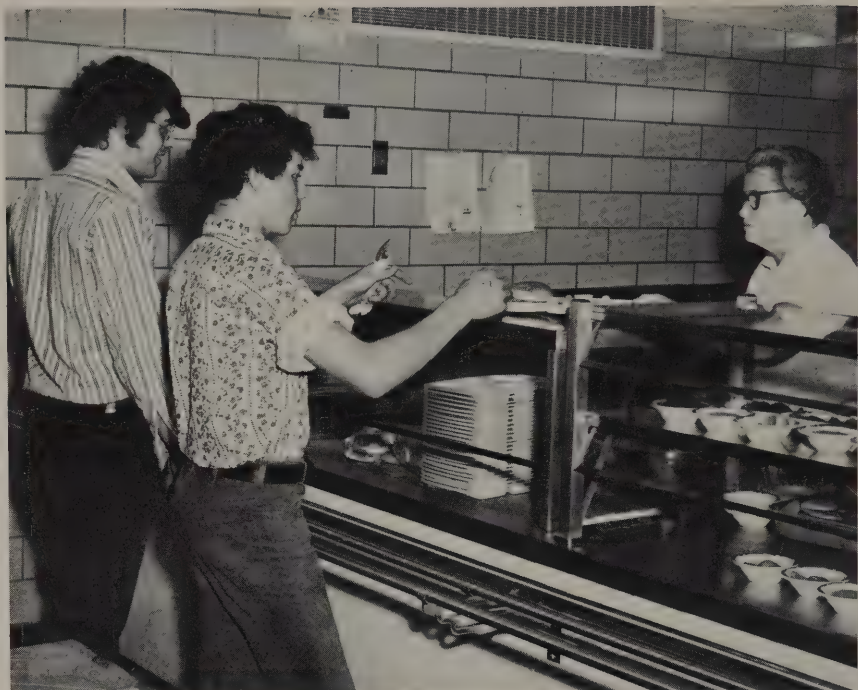

Students in the work-study group sold refreshments during football games to develop skills in active work experience. They were under the guidance of Mr. Fraraccio.

Our Junior Varsity team played well this season, although their record didn't pass the .500 mark. The Freshman Hornets finished another undefeated season, their third in a row. Coaches for these teams were Mr. Bryson, Mr. Myers and Mr. Cutler. High scorer for the freshman team was Jim Kendal.

Varsity Hornets score

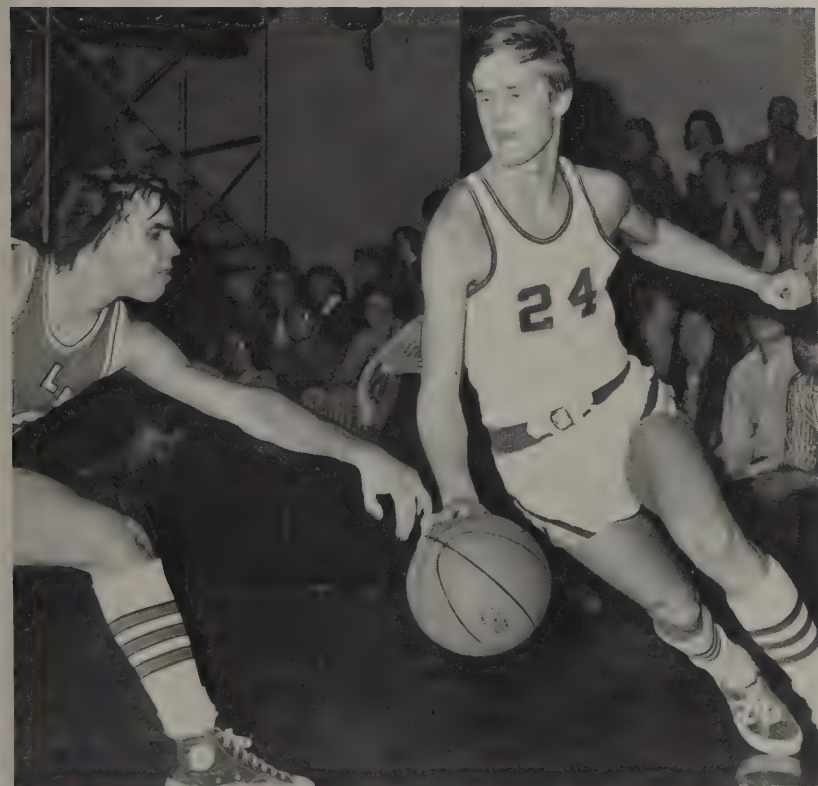

Determination and a lot of pride brought the Hornets their best season in fifteen years. Guy Connors was the top scorer for the season. Seniors on this year's squad were Jerry Smith, Guy Connors, Bob Ritcher, Gary Henry and Dale Puskas. The season closed with a 10-7 record, including tournament games. Captain of the varsity Hornets was Bob Ritcher.

The 1973 Varsity Hornets, coached by Mr. Clifford, were a potentially great team, consisting mostly of seniors. Their 15-8 final record was far from being indicative of their talents. Of the last eight games lost, five were lost by only one run. During the season, the team beat all county teams except Black River at least once. High points of the season were the Sectional victory over Akron St. Vincent, and the Medina County Tournament. For the third year in a row, Highland lost the final game to place second in the tournament. Outstanding players were Rich Rinehart, pitcher, with a 7-0 record, Guy Connors, leading hitter, Bob Ritcher, leading fielder, and Jeff Parker, most valuable player.

FEATURED EVENTS

Rain does not dampen the Highland

Highland's Homecoming was much earlier than usual this year, but spirit and efficiency resulted in a successful weekend. On Friday night, September 29, 1972, both Queen Leslie Cordle and the skies "reigned" on our victory over Columbia.

Queen Leslie and her court were presented on the field with their fathers before the game. Football co-captains Dan Farsworth and Jeff Parker crowned Leslie and gave her a football autographed by the team and the coaches.

The Hornets waded through six inches of water on the field as they scored three touchdowns and one conversion. Columbia's team was held scoreless by our staunch defense. A few drenched fans remained to see the final moments of our 20-0 homecoming win over Columbia.

The senior class, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Lou Ludwig, this year presented the comedy, Arsenic and Old Lace on November 17, 1972. Karen Chimento and Nancy Cook played the Brewster sisters, two elderly ladies who made their "special" recipe of elderberry wine. Bob Paytosh played Jonathan, the criminal brother who came home for refuge with his partner, Dr. Einstein, played by John Wise. Bob Harvey, Mortimer Brewster, the only normal member of the family, discovered his aunts' seemingly innocent past-time. Steve Reeves provided amusement with his clever portrayal of Teddy Roosevelt.

Juniors present

The Day family is ready to be served breakfast when Cousin Jenny Depas and Aunt Erin Scally arrive for a visit.

The escapades of a "typical" New York family of six in the early 1900 era is the basis for the Junior Class presentation this year, Life With Father. Cliff Feightner plays the temperamental father who tries to rule his family and be king of his castle. His patient wife, Rene Roach, humors him and tames his uncontrollable temper. In this comedy, an aunt and cousin (Erin Scally and Jenny Depas) visit the Day family which results in a number of humorous episodes including a budding relationship between Brian Avery and Jenny. When brothers Brian and Pat Kelly sell a cure-all remedy to earn money, this causes another uproar. They give some to their mother when she becomes ill and the medicine only makes her worse. She recovers quickly when Father Cliff promises to be baptized, something he always detested doing. The two younger brothers Rex Parker and Barb Brown added to the comic mood by their candid, innocent remarks.

Rex Parker recites his catechism to Pastor Bob Chaffee in hopes of being confirmed, while Mother Rene Roach and little brother Barb Brown listen closely.

The Junior Class chose this title appropriately as the theme for the 1973 Prom. Life and excitement are not over as the Seniors' high school years draw to a close, but the doors to opportunities are thrown wide open for those who decide to take them. The activities of Friday afternoon were limited to bowling as the most popular since the spring rains made the golfing outdoors a little difficult. Friday evening the traditional catered banquet was served in the decorated gym. It deviated from its usual appearance to become a beautiful park in the springtime. Saturday night brought handsomely dressed couples in tuxedos and long, flowing dresses. The band, The Rats, was not traditional, however, but they did some great rock in the opinion of many people. It was not appropriate to prom dancing so the band put on some slow Beatle tapes for those who liked closer dancing.

Paradoxical Commandments of Leadership

1. People are illogical, unreasonable, and self-centered.
LOVE THEM ANYWAY.
2. If you do good, people will accuse you of selfish ulterior motives.
DO GOOD ANYWAY.
3. If you are successful, you win false friends and true enemies.
SUCCEED ANYWAY.
4. The good you do today will be forgotten tomorrow.
DO GOOD ANYWAY.
5. Honesty and frankness make you vulnerable.
BE HONEST AND FRANK ANYWAY.
6. The biggest men with the biggest ideas can be shot down by the smallest men with the smallest ideas.
THINK BIG ANYWAY.
7. People favor underdogs but follow only top dogs.
FIGHT FOR A FEW UNDERDOGS ANYWAY.
8. What you spend years building may be destroyed overnight.
BUILD ANYWAY.
9. People really need help but may attack you if you do help them.
HELP PEOPLE ANYWAY.
10. Give the world the best you have and you'll get kicked in the teeth.
GIVE THE WORLD THE BEST YOU HAVE ANYWAY.

If a man does not keep pace
with his companions,
Perhaps it is because he hears
a different drummer.
Let him step to the music which he hears,
however measured or far away.

Many changes have taken place in the Highland school system since the first yearbook was printed in 1953. There has also been many changes made this past year. The staff has tried its best to record these changes and the rest of the students activities throughout the year as accurately as possible in our very own treasure chest of memories. I hope that now, and in years to come that you, the reader, will appreciate our Golden Memories of Highland High School in 1973.
